Welcome from our Director of International Students

Sacred Heart College is one of New Zealand's leading Catholic boys' schools. With more than 100 years of Marist tradition that serves as the backbone that inspires everyday life, the College is renowned nationally and internationally for its academic excellence, sports achievements, performing arts and the quality of pastoral care. It is both our privilege and commitment to develop boys into courageous young men who are authentic in faith, character and aspiration.

Graduates of our College are compassionate, resilient and counter-cultural, set up for a journey of success and excellence in whatever paths they choose to take. Sacred Heart Old Boys are among New Zealand's top musicians, academics, artists, sportsmen and religious and civil leaders.

Each year, we host a number of International Students from Asia, the Pacific, and Europe. These students come to Sacred Heart to study, gain University Entrance, experience New Zealand's culture, and travel around our beautiful country. The College provides an excellent academic programme and caring environment for our International Students to be successful in their future. It is pleasing to see many of our students gain entry to some of the top Universities both in New Zealand and around the world.

International Students are an integral part of our College and are welcomed with a nurturing environment, challenging curriculum and rewarding experiences in academia, sports, music and cultural activities. We invite you to join the Sacred Heart family.

Special Character

As contemporary Catholic, Marist and Champagnat educators, we respond to the spiritual, academic and social needs of our students, leading by example and guided by our seven Sacred Heart Pillars.

At Sacred Heart College the Catholic vision, attitudes and values of St Marcellin Champagnat are experienced in the daily lives of boys, staff and Brothers.

Every school aims to build and nurture a positive culture. At Sacred Heart, our culture is centred on the person of Jesus Christ and shaped by the unique and distinctive charism of St Marcellin Champagnat, which permeates all aspects of school life.

The Marist Brothers brought the educational ethos of St Marcellin Champagnat to New Zealand in 1838. Today their vision and values can be seen at work in schools from one end of the country to the other.

As contemporary Catholic educators, our aim is to consistently meet the spiritual, academic and social needs of our students, leading by example and guided by our Marist pillars.

Community spirit is fundamental to the Sacred Heart College family, which comprises students, parents, staff, Marist Brothers, Old Boys and friends of the College. At Sacred Heart we give top priority to fostering supportive, compassionate relationships. A strong team spirit unites our teaching staff – the atmosphere is welcoming, warm and down-to-earth with a deep sense of humility.

Sacred Heart Pillars

Diligence

Teachers, supervisors, boarding staff and students work together to fulfil their potential in all aspects of College and Hostel life. Academic excellence is a valued goal, as is involvement in cultural and sporting activities.

Support

Sacred Heart College education aims to support students and families in need; not only those who are materially needy, but also those who require spiritual, emotional and intellectual support.

Simplicity

Simplicity is seen as a Gospel value; relationships are characterised by simplicity of expression. To this we link humility and modesty, making the three violets of our Marist tradition.

Family spirit

We relate to each other and our students as members of a family. This builds community amongst our staff, parents and our wider Sacred Heart College family.

Presence for others

Boarding and teaching staff at Sacred Heart aim to provide a pedagogy of presence – to be 'present' for each other, listen and provide a good example.

Loyalty and pride

We are true to our tradition and recognise that Sacred Heart College has contributed to the lives of our students, who are justly proud of their Catholic, Marist and Champagnat heritage.

All in the Way of Mary

Our spirituality is expressed through our devotion to Mary's attitude towards Jesus, others and towards God: "All to Jesus through Mary. All to Mary for Jesus."

In-class mainstream support is also offered across a range of other curriculum areas within the context of New Zealand's secondary schools. The focus is on developing our students' English language skills of reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Our aim is to help the senior students to learn the academic language, read and write information texts and to gain the National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) Level 2 literacy qualification - one of the key University Entrance requirements for tertiary education in New Zealand and overseas.

International Student Committee

International Students at Sacred Heart College have the opportunity of developing their leadership and organisational skills by becoming a member of our International Student Committee.

Each year the committee is actively involved with, and assists, the International Department to organise various popular social activities and trips, such as the Mission Bay outing, Fun Sports Day, BBQ, and Disco night. These events enable our International Students to integrate into our wider community and bring a sense of global citizenship to our school.

Curriculum for International Students

Students are encouraged to test their knowledge in national and international competitions.

Sacred Heart College has a long history of welcoming and educating International Students from all over the world. Our College provides a challenging curriculum based on the New Zealand Curriculum Framework and is renowned for providing students with a caring, supportive environment in which they excel both academically and socially. Students at all levels are extended academically with appropriate support and specialist courses.

In Years 7 to 10, the curriculum focuses on core subjects and gradually introduces specialist subjects as students' progress. At Years 9 and 10 the curriculum has a greater reliance on individualised learning. In Year 11, students enter NCEA Level 1. Able students are offered a range of extension courses including the opportunity to study at scholarship level. Many courses are available in Years 11 to 13 covering the National Qualifications Framework Unit Standards, and NCEA Levels 2 and 3. Many students undertake study across these levels. Religious Education is compulsory for all students, and for International Students is taught by English language teachers to further assist in improving the boys' English competency and gaining credits.

The Study Centre and tutorial workshops are available throughout the academic year. This enables International Students to focus on improving their English language skills, obtain learning support for key subject areas, and prepare them for NCEA assessments and examinations.

School Reporting

A Weekly Notes report is emailed to parents/guardians each week for students in Years 7 to 13. This is designed to provide feedback to students and parents/guardians on the level of effort that has been shown each week. The grades given range from 1 to 5, where 1 is poor and 5 is excellent.

Academic Tracking Evenings are held twice a year for senior students to ensure the best academic outcome is achieved for our International Students. They are designed to provide parents and students a clear indication of the predicted level of achievement in each subject, based on current work ethic and academic levels shown to date.

Reports are also emailed home twice a year for each student, following examinations. Parent-Teacher Interviews are held once a year, generally at the end of Term 2 to give important information regarding how each student is progressing and provide suggestions as to how each student can achieve at a higher level.

Students begin to understand how to interact constructively with others while working towards a common goal. They also learn and perfect their own individual skills and talents. At Sacred Heart College, all students are strongly encouraged to participate in a cultural or service group, or they can join one of our many bands.

Musical and drama productions run each year, are a wonderful way for students to showcase their musical and acting abilities.

Cultural groups

Sacred Heart boys are proud of their culture and there is a strong representation in the Kapa Haka, Tongan and Samoan groups. We encourage students of all ages and ethnicities to join a cultural group to strengthen their relationships within the College. Our cultural groups perform at the College Fiafia Night and represent the school at the annual ASB Polynesian Festival.
